usual & being Sunday no other than necessary work going on, part of the ship's company ashore on liberty & to church. The day ending as it began with light squalls of rain, perceived by trying the the pumps that the ship had sprung a leak, doubtless during the gale off the island

At daylight called all hands aft & introduced Mr Sherman as first officer of the ship when one & all refused to do duty under him under the plea that he was no whaleman and a bad officer. Though willing to go to their duty until the Consul came who was immediately sent for. Some few of the ships company ashore others engaged in getting off wood and stowing it away.

Tuesday Jan 2nd

To day the Consul came on board. called all hands aft and questioned them as to going in the ship under Mr Sherman. which they refused to do. Who then declined going and called for his discharge. giving this reason. that he was afraid of his life if he continued in the ship. tried pumps and found her to be leaking nearly as bad as ever having a spell of nearly two hours.

Wednesday Jan 3rd

All this day squally & accompanied with rain at intervals through the day. At 2 o'clock <sup>P.M.</sup> Consul came on board and made out Mr Sherman's discharge & shipped Mr Joseph Perry as chief mate which was agreed to by all hands. Discharged Mr Bartlett Gibbs <sup>2nd mate</sup> by his own request. also Abraham Hottenbeck seaman.
